

A cross-sectional view of a device. It features a substrate 10 at the bottom, which has several small rectangular protrusions on its top surface. Two ovals, labeled 30, are positioned on these protrusions. Above the ovals is a layer 20, which is divided into five rectangular segments by vertical dividers.

[illegible]

[illegible]

FIG.4

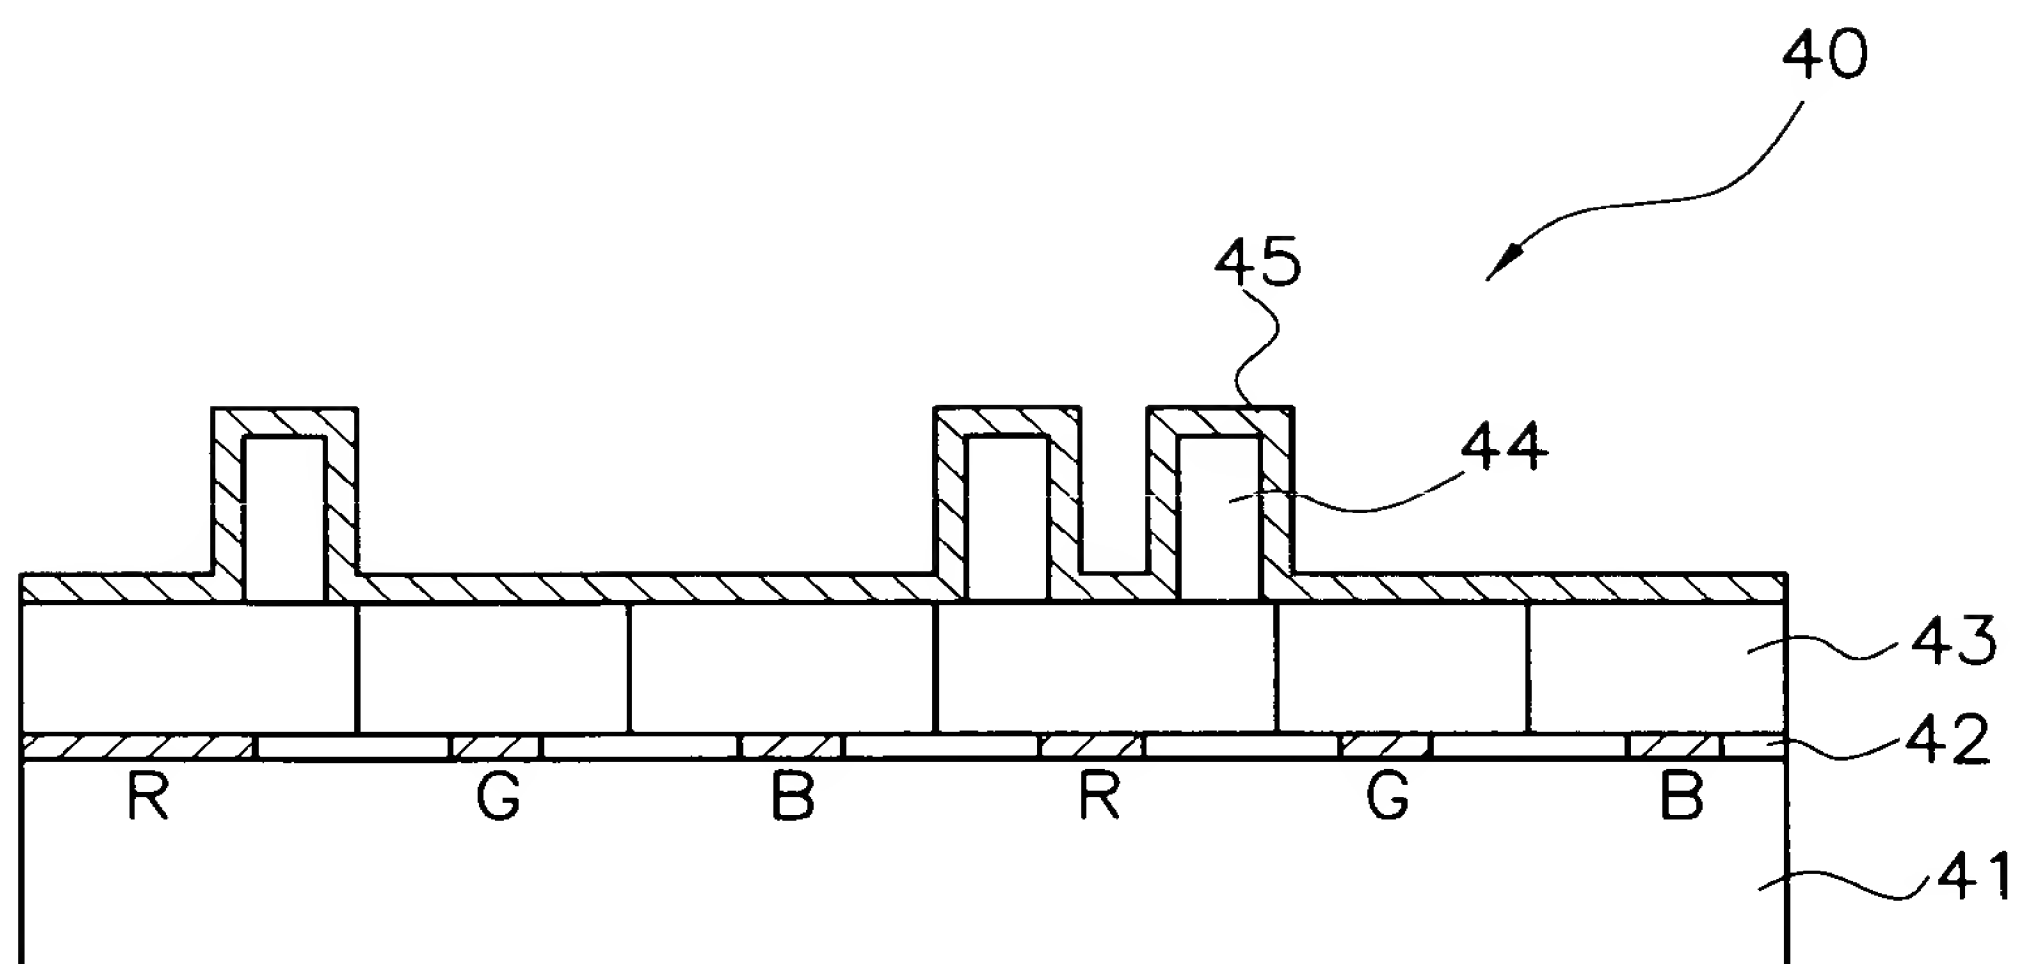

FIG.5

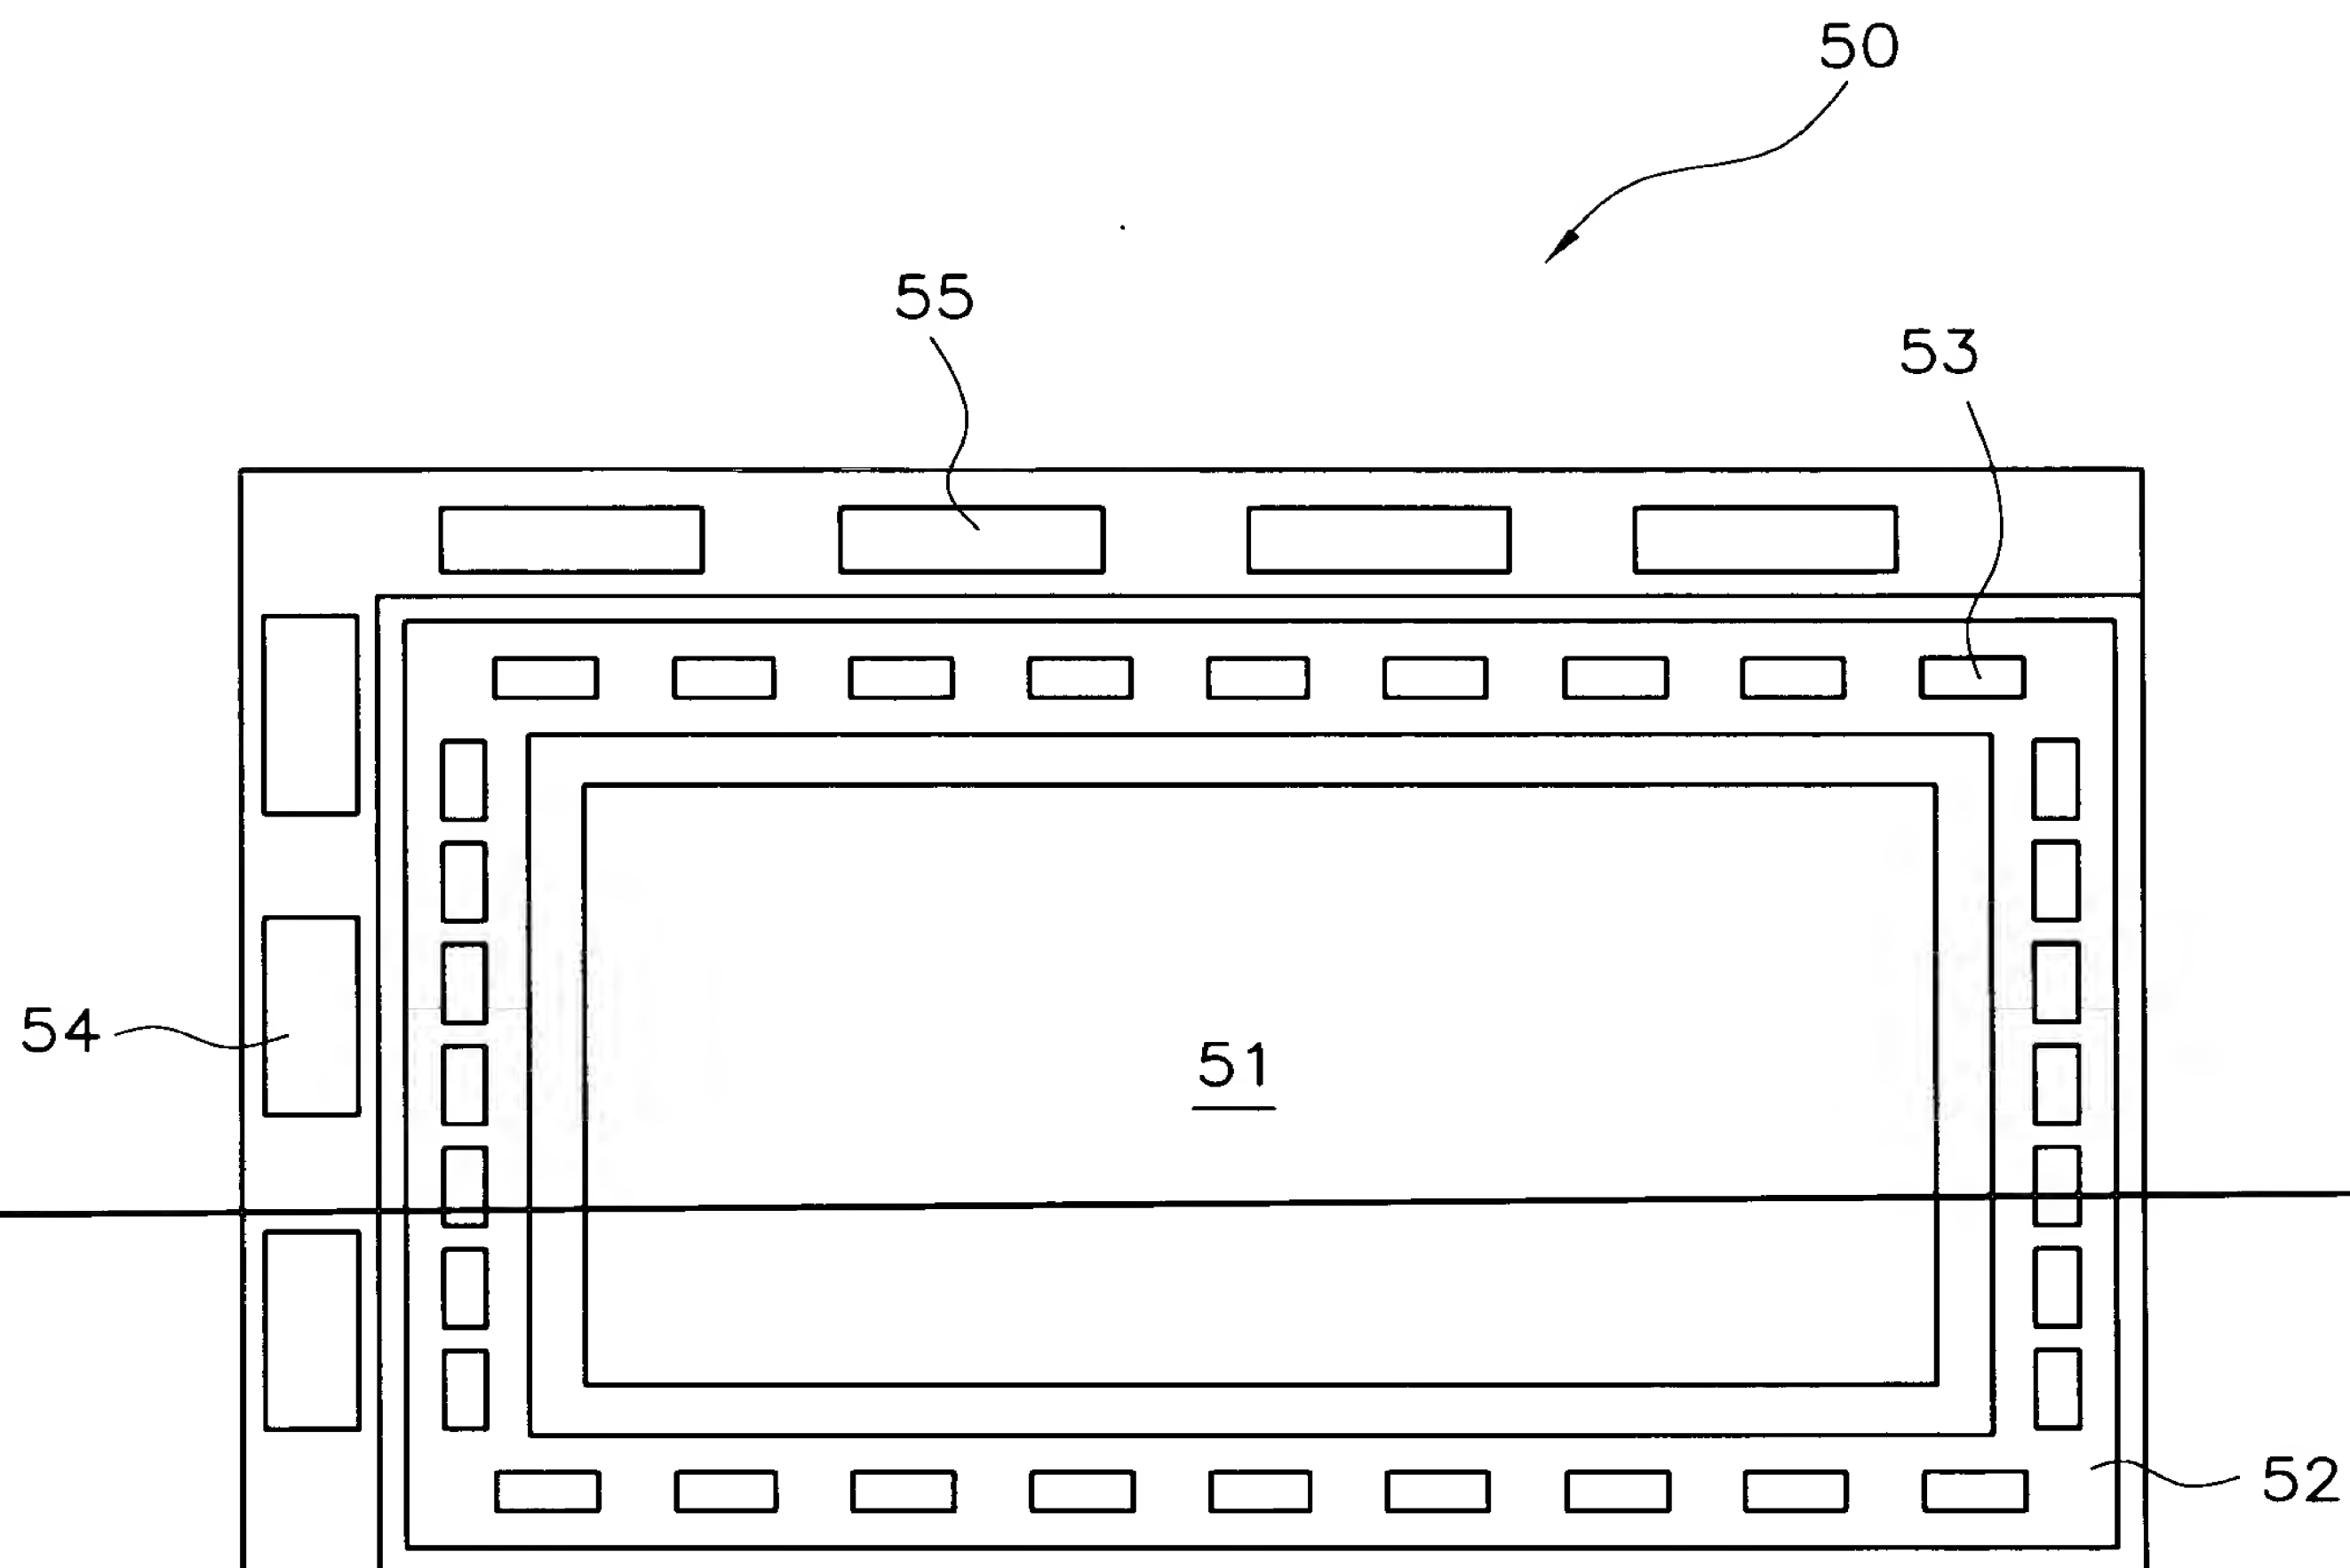

FIG.6

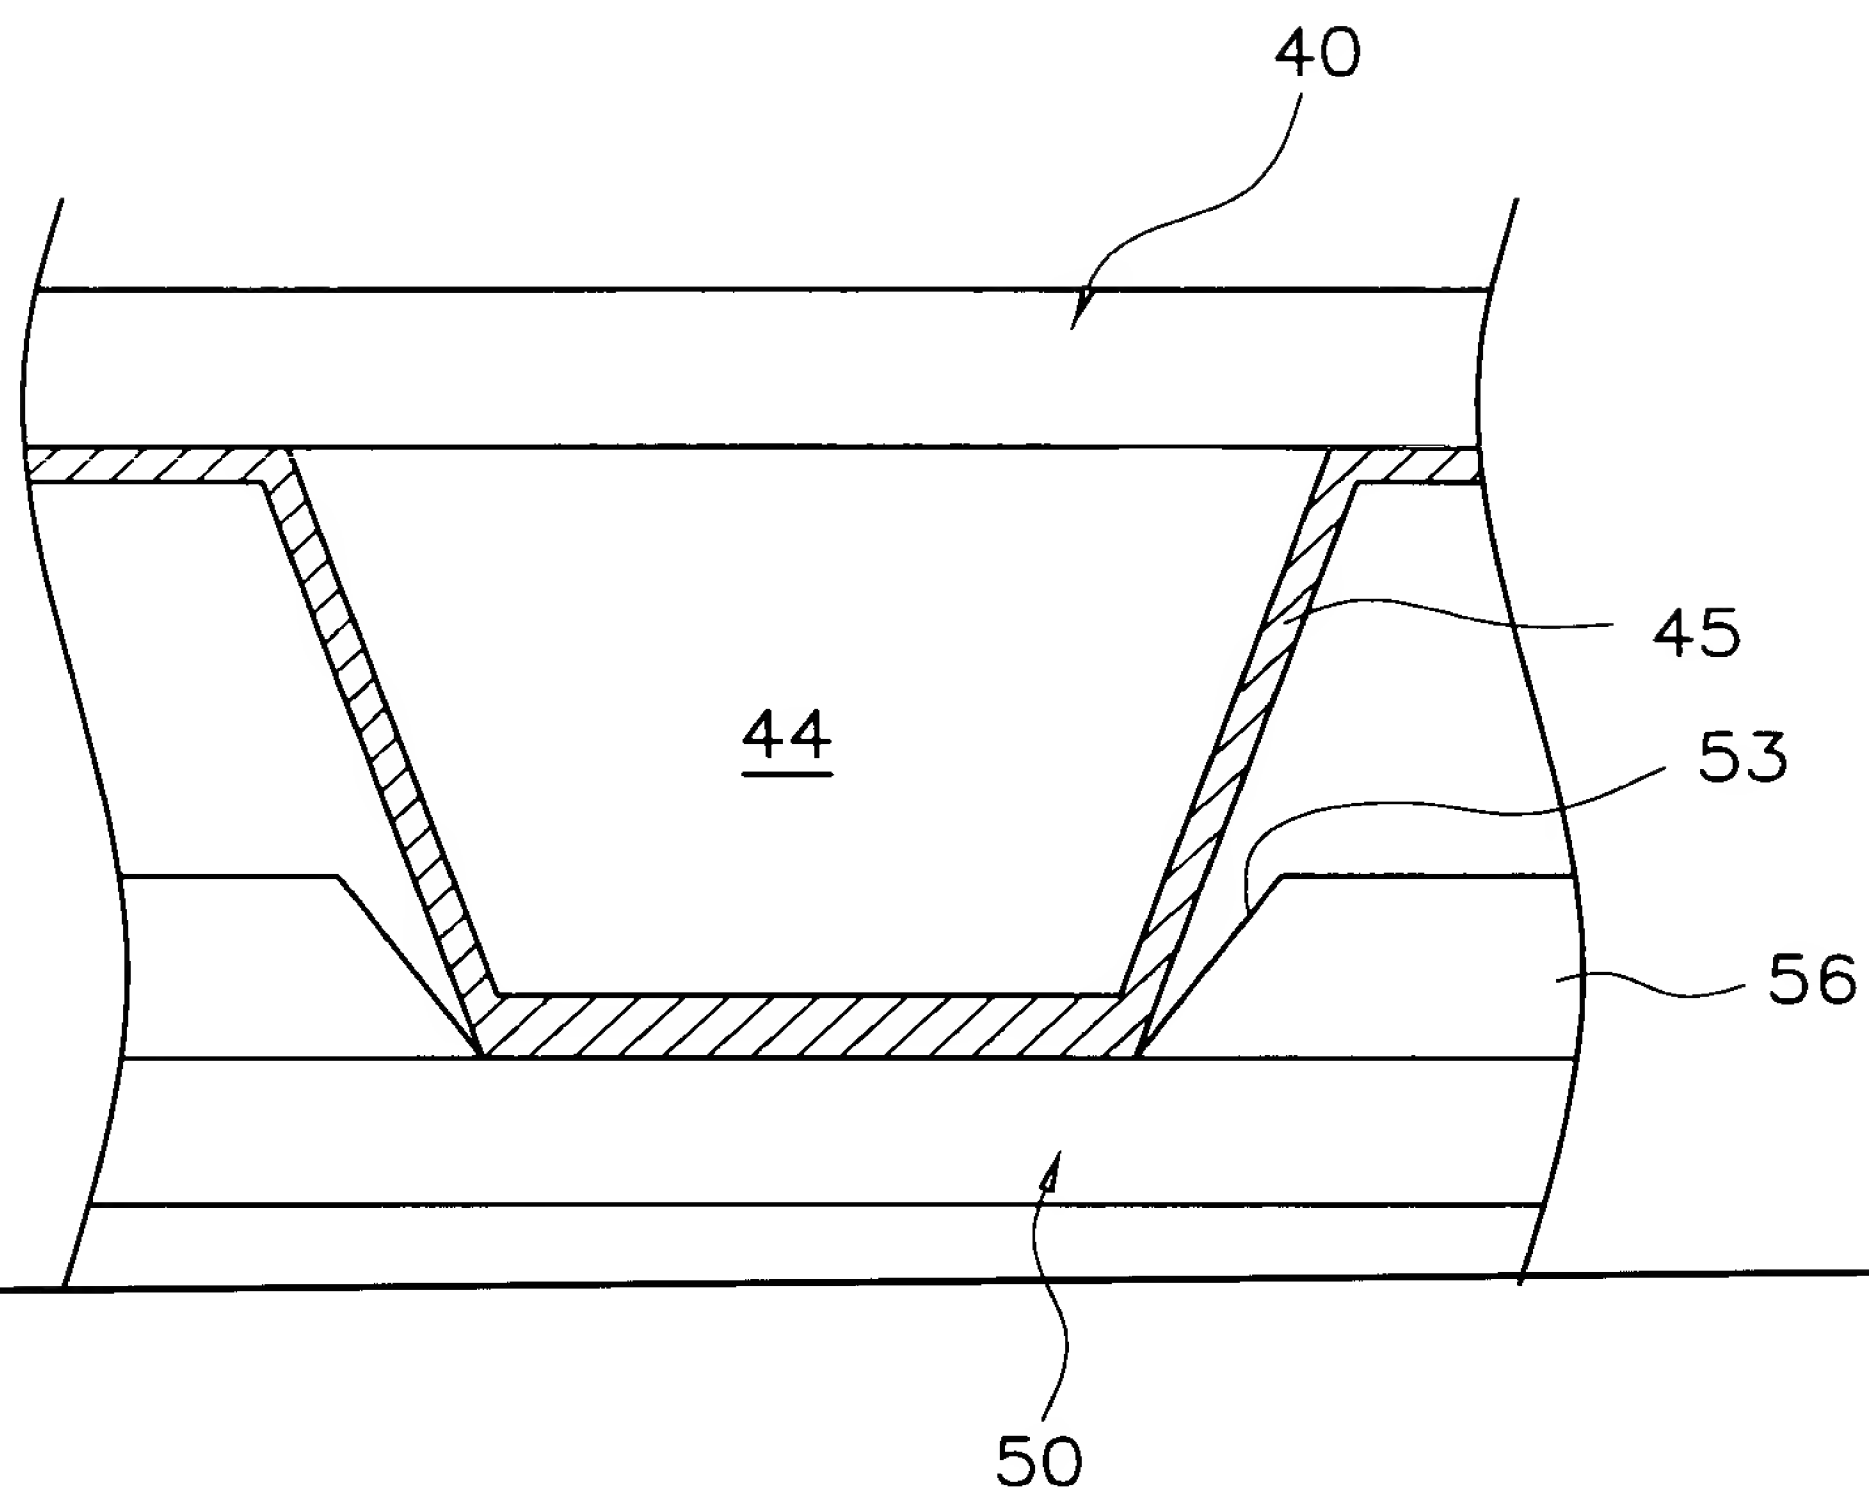

FIG. 6